Stress Trend to Mechanical Devices in Medical Science

A tendency toward ultimate mechanization of the affairs of humanity was reflected last night in the exhibition of modern medical and surgical devices incident to the sixth annual meeting of the American College of Physical Therapy, which began its sessions at the Hotel Sherman. Machinery for diagnosts, which began its sessions at the Hotel Sherman. Machinery for diagnosts, machinery for surgery, machinery for panetrative treatments and for plain massare and muscular agitations, virtually all of electrical foundation, in wide variety, tends to emphasise the necessity for mechanical equipment in increasing quantities for the modern medical man.

One ingenious device is an artificial exercisor which has the mechanical virtue of being salle to selze and exercise the principal muscles of the body in an amaxingly short space of time. It is designed to save golfers and symnastium addicts that time necessary to reach and indulge in physical exercisors. It is claimed that a few microments of the device will deal that is necessary in the way of muscular development.

T. P. O'Connor, venerable comm

the also cabled Mr. Insuli from London requesting him to convey his greatest sympathy to the members of the family of Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell.

How Banker's Career Began.

How Mr. Mitchell began his career as a big banker, and how his father, the late William H. Mitchell, backed him up, was told by Walter, H. Wilheson, for many years an intimate friend of the Mitchell family.

"Dering the panic of 1873," said
Mr. Wilson, "there were many banks in trouble. One of these was the Illinois Trust and Savings bank, of which John Mitchell's father was the head.
When the question of closing it was discussed young John, who was then a teller, said:

cessfully."
"Do you, Johnny?' said his father.
"Well, go ahead and I will back you up.'

"The elder Mitchell bought all the shares he could at par and turned the bank over to his son. When the father came to die it was found that he had 10,000 shares of stock in that bank That showed how he had backed up his son. And the stock at that time was worth $600 a share. That show how the son backed up the father."

"Mr. Mitchell was the inevitable ar

"He would have been a great politician," said Alex Legge, president of the International Harvester company." He was a man of many contacts and the had that rare faculty of remembering names and faces. He was interested in people and remembered them.

He knew all his farm employes and servants and always spoke to them. He kept the same personal touch in the bank. Mark Devine, who has sat for fifteen years outside the door of Mr. Mitchell's office, told this story:

"An elderly woman had some difficulty with one of the bank tellers about $100. As the teller's moncy balanced, little attention was paid to her complaint. She grumbled for a week or so and then came to Mr. Mitchell's office. I told him her story and he sent for her to come right in. He listened to her and then said:

"'Every one even bank tellers—nakes mistakes sometimes. I'll take our word for it.' He told me to vrite out a check for her $100. A reck later the woman came back and anded me $100. She had found the alssing money pinned to the inside of er blouse."

Wife Devoted to Hon

Friends yesterday told of Mr.
Mitchell's devotion to her home. So loved flowers, and one of the few ganizations in which she did activ work was the Lake Geneva Garde club.

Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell had planne to come into town today to be at their own apartment until after Christmas when they would go to Pasadena according to their annual custom. The ast social event at which they produced as host and hostess was the wedding in late September of their coungest daughter. Louise, to John Payne Kellogg.

Representative Green challenged the argument on this question.

Revenue to Fall Off.

In opening his statement Secretary delion emphasized the fact that revenue from nonrecurring items, such as railroad loans and back tax receipts, will fall off materially and that tax of the framing of the 1926 rev. year 1928. The surplus in the fiscal act, told Mr. Garner that no year 1927 was $635,000,000. The surplus of the committee had any idea member of the committee had any idea that the reduced tax rates would yield more revenue than the 1924 act, but that there was an actual increase of $24,000,000 from the income tax aione. Representative Garner thought the corporation tax might be reduced more than proposed by Mr. Mellon and suggested that this might be at the expense of the treasury plan for a cut in the basis of the estimated surplus for timated at $137,000,000 and for 1929, 1 here are less than 7,000,000. The corresponding figure as for the fiscal year 1927 he gave as $221,000,000 and for 1926, $162,000,000.

In limiting the prospective tax reduction to $225,000,000 Mr. Mellon allowed a margin of about $50,000,000 on lowers of our corporations, some 3, 1000,000 individuals, are taxed indirectly as the less of the estimated surplus for Representative Green challenged the argument on this question.

THERE are many families in Chicago today living in fine homes—free to travel—able to take long vacations—giving their children college educations—with ample financial resources—enjoying all the finer things of life—who can truthfully say, "We owe it all to Harmon."

Many of them were "doubters" who scoffed at Harmon's claims for the future of "Ravenswood Gardens"—"Belmont Gardens"—"Chatham Fields"—and other Harmon properties. They had to be argued with, yes almost forced, to take advantage of the opportunity—to make a small down payment on the investment that brought them success. Today they are glad they allowed themselves to at last be persuaded. Why? Because they got their share of the $30,000,000 increase in value over and above the original selling price of Harmon's Chicago developments.

In the past there was, perhaps, some need of persuasion to convince people of the value of investment in Harmon properties. Today there surely is no reason for hesitation, with the examples of profits taken from Harmon developments on every hand.

Right Now There Is Another HARMON Opportunity!

We sincerely believe this new property will outclass our previous Chicago developments in profitmaking. It will be developed in the usual, thorough Harmon way to accomplish this. Properties like this cannot be found every day-Harmon believes it is better to wait for such properties rather than risk the reputation Harmon built by making money for thousands of customers.

Now that we have found it, started its development, forecast its future—we offer it to YOU as a glowing opportunity to make your first foothold on the ladder of success. Of the thousands who will want to take advantage of this opportunity only comparatively few can be accommodated. Your best interests demand immediate investigation.

TYPICAL HARMON DEVELOPMENT

Beautiful parkways—waterfront lots (the only ones in the city of Chicago for sale at anything like our prices)—Special fund to insure park-like maintenance for years to come—Shade trees and growing shrubs—Paved streets— Wide sidewalks—Prices for residential and apartment sites as low as $890.

This new Harmon development has every desirable factor that builds values—location, transportation, improvements, restrictions and proper price. It is located most city of the world. The following are some of the specinside the city limits of Chicago, served by 30-minute electical features included in this Typical Harmon Development:

Less than $100 cash as initial payment puts your foot on the first rung of the ladder—small payments each month are steps upward that you can easily take. This simple plan buys a business or apartment site that should, by every indication Harmon has found dependable in 40 years' successful service, make a handsome profit for you.

Send today for our Forecast of the section of the City of Chicago in which this new Harmon development is located. It will give you the reasons why we feel so confident of its future. It shows fully why we believe you can start here on the climb to success. Sent to you without obligation, together with location, plat, prices and full particulars.

Many thousands, also, belong to that more fortunate group to whom expense is a trifling consideration, and who would have spent a far higher price for a superior instrument, if they could have found one.

The inference is plain. Merit alone has been the determining factor in influencing Kimball sales. A tonal beauty that lasts unimpaired through many years has given the Kimball a wider distribution on this continent than any other make of piano.

Because of his enthusiasm for the French designs, Hepplewhite was called "The Frenchman of England."

We had always associated his name with cer-tain classic sideboards and chairs until a recent trip to England in search of new, or rather "old" ideas. There we were introduced to certain sump-tuous davenports and chairs as the finest work of the great designer.

There is no denying the elegance and beauty of French Hepplewhite for formal living rooms and apartments. We have reproduced a few of the best examples, which are now on display at our salesrooms.

THE TOUCH THAT TRANSFORMS STEEL TO ART METAL ...

Unhurried skill! The experience gained in forty years of making steel office equipment applied to every detail-right down the line. That's the added touch that transforms steel office equipment into Art Metal.

Whether it is a desk, a file, a cabinet or a safeif it is Art Metal, the final product will have a beauty and dignity of appearance that only this unhurried skill can give.

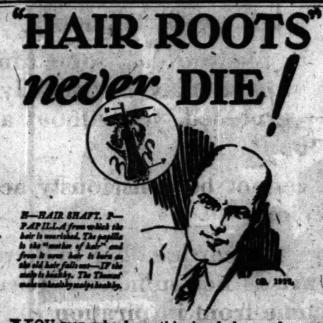

But Art Metal sacrifices no practical advantages to beauty. All the mechanical superiorities of steel are retained. All the up-to-the-minute refinements demanded by modern office procedure are there.

The most remarkable thing about Art Metal is not that it is more beautiful -or that it is the last word in practical office equipment—but that it is so reasonably priced. Phone us for catalog on desks, files or safes.

You men who have thinning hair or who are bald perhaps have been told that because your hair "roots" are dead you can never enjoy a healthy growth of hair. This is untrue, as the hair grows not from roots that come out when the hair comes out, but from papillae that are alive in the scalp as long as the body itself lives. These minute organs of hair production become inactive and do not grow new hair when the scalp is lacking in proper nourishment and stimulation.

New Growth of Hair is Possible

The Thomas treatment removes all scalp disorders, including dandruff and falling hair, and promotes a grawth of new hair visible on the scalp generally within a few weeks. With this distinctive fifteen-year proven method available you cannot afford to waste your time and money on experimental treatments and remedies. Nor can you afford to impair your personal appearance by remaining bald or partially bald. The Thomas' positively remove all scalp disorders and re-grow hair.

YOU - like over 400,000 other home owners who have already done so — can eliminate the extra cost and care of fire for domestic hot water, during the heating season.

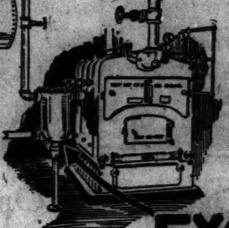

An Excelso, indirectly using the fire which you must burn in your boiler or furnace, guarantees a constant and uniform supply of running hot water. Thus you save the bills for separate gas or other heater.

Excelso connects outside your boiler, doing away with the obstructive fire-pot coil; utilizes present piping and storage tank; operates absolutely without thought or attention.

Flair is a sky-rocket shooting up from an earth of averages.

Flair is inspiration - something that sparkles with a radiance that is real. A woman may be smartly and correctly costumed, she may be perfectly groomed, yet without a certain flair she may seem as passive as a statue.

Flair cannot be consciously acquired. It is elusive, and for that reason, precious.

Harper's Bazar has flair in its make-up. The best in fashions, in fiction, and in art, is not sufficient. There must be a verve, a zest, a vibrance, which come from inspiration rather than careful calculation.

Flair makes Harper's Bazar more stimulating, more amusing, more provocative. One cannot just read Harper's Bazar; one must react.

The quality of flair attracts advertisers whose products themselves have this quality. Thus the advertising becomes fashionably associated with the magazine in which it appears, and the families of the Inner Circle which it reaches.

And fashionable advertising is profitable advertising.

A STATEMENT PACKARD

V/E ARE appreciative of the fact that with the large V increase in demand for the Packard car you may be under the impression that delivery cannot be made for several months. This is wrong.

During this year Packard has invested nearly ten million dollars in increased manufacturing facilities. This expenditure is now bearing fruit in increased production, and today we can offer reasonable dates of delivery on nearly all types and practically immediate delivery on the Packard Six five-passenger sedan.

Why not buy a Packard Six today, pay for it within a year, as many prefer to do, and then keep it five or more years as does the average owner? If your present car is of average value it will more than make the new car down payment and leave no cash outlay except for the small monthly notes.

The Packard Six five passenger sedan, delivered, costs but including tax, freight and all necessary accessories.

The Law of Rate Making

The law which governs the making of railway rates contains two major requirements. One is that the management of the railroads must be honest, must be made so the railroads as a whole will be able to earn a fair return upon the value of their property. This law has now been in existence more than seven years.

The honesty of railway management throughout these seven years has been unquestioned. Its efficiency has been demonstrated by a great im-provement in service; railway transportation today is uniformly prompt and dependable. The economy of railway management has been proved by an actual increase in net earnings during a period of high prices, advancing taxes and declining rates.

The first requirement of the law has therefore been fully met in all particulars. Turn now to the second requirement.

In only one of the seven years has the return earned by the railroads as a whole come up to the mark set by the Interstate Commerce Commission as a fair return. That was in 1926. For the full seven years the railroads have lacked more than one and a quarter billion dollars of earning such a return. In view of this experience, everyone ought to know by now that no return is guaranteed to the railroads. If they fail to reach the return aimed at, there is no provision for making up the difference. Furthermore, the fact that the railroads have failed to earn this return in a period of heavy traffic means the shortage is certain to be greater when business declines.

Honest, efficient and economical management of the railroads alone is not enough to gain the end for which this law was enacted, which is the maintenance of an adequate system of transportation. The second requirement of the law is of just as much force as the first, and failure on the part of our rateregulating authorities to meet it has the effect of nullifying what the railroads have accomplished by meeting the first.

When this situation is fully realized by the public, there will undoubtedly be a marked public senti-ment in favor of maintaining a level of rates that will accomplish the full intent of the law.

Constructive criticism and suggestions are invited.

Little ruffians need strong, healthy bodies

LITTLE bundels of concentrated action... working and romping and racing from morning 'til night... what a world of energy they burn up in the course of a day!

And how do the mothers of these little ruffians keep them brimming with health and en-ergy? The answer is right feeding—careful attention to the foods which make up their children's diet.

One of the most important of these foods is good, pure butter.

Mrs. Delle Ross, dietician, has this to say, "Butter is among the most concentrated energy foods known to man. Important tests by scientists in this country and abroad.

have proven that butter in the diet increases the weight and height of children in the formative period."

It is now known that butter's amazing health and growth-promoting qualities are due not alone to food calories. In an even larger way, they lie in a rich content of those important substances known as vitamins.

This butter is made to meet the needs of growing children

Blue Valley generously supplies the vitamins and other body-building elements which children need, largely because it is made as only Blue Valley

Blue Valley learned years ago that to make a supremely fine butter required far more than a carefully selected and thoroughly pasteurized supply of fine cream. Good cream, though highly necessary, is only the beginning of good butter.

There must also be maintained a most sensitive and delicately balanced set of scientific methods, processes and formulas. It was the further promotion of this scientific work that originally prompted Blue Valley to found the now famous Blue Valley Research Laboratories.

And when later Professor Otto F. Hunziker, a scientist of world fame in butter making, was secured as di-recting head, literally a new era was marked in the production of really fine butter.

But try Blue Valley! Note its de-lightful aroma, its marvelous uni-formity, its wondrous flavor—a flavor that cost years of painstaking effort—a flavor that all children keenly relish. Blue Valley Creamery Company, 1137 West Jackson Boulevard, Chicago. Telephone Monroe 7420.

degree of comfort is assured.

So accustomed are Chicagoans to the term "largest in the world" that it has long since lost much of its power to stir civic pride.

Yet every citizen should be supremely proud that, in the Public Health Institute, Chicago has the largest, best manned and most modernly equipped "Social" Disease clinic in the world

Proud because in Chicago "Social" Diseases are now under control—if not actually declining, whereas in almost every other large city they are steadily on the increase.

Credit for this condition is due the Chicago Health Department, private physicians, charitable clinics and the Public Health Institute. The Institute's share is a considerable one, not only because of the vast number of persons it examines and treats but because of its important educational and research work.

As many as 1,800 persons, for example, have been treated at the Public Health Institute in a single day. Since its inception in 1920, the Institute has given in excess of two million treatments!

Starting in one room, with facilities for treating only three patients at a time, the Public Health Institute has grown to the point that its main clinic now occupies four large floors and cares for as many as sixty patients at a time, each with the utmost privacy. In addition, the Institute maintains a separate department for women and children and a special South Side citric

While the original staff of the Public Health Institute consisted of but one physician and a clerk, the present staff comprises thirty-two registered physicians, five women nurses and thirty-one other employees.

Organized for public service NOT FOR PROFIT, the Institute's examination and treatment fees are so very moderate that every one can afford them. In no other city in the world can the public obtain comparable medical attention so economically, conveniently and privately.

Bearing in mind that it is possible to have a "Social" Disease without knowing it, every citizen is urged to take advantage of this protective service by coming in for examination. For "Social", Diseases, unless promptly and properly treated, may easily result in insanity, blindness, epilepsy, paralysis, heart disease or some other disabling affliction.

The Public Health Institute is open from 10 A. M. to 8 P. M. every day except Sunday. Unless a recent examination has proved you to be free from infection, come in and be examined at once!

Three Special Schools to train Pennsylvania dining car men

AT the beginning of the summer the Pennsylvania Railroad began an experiment in Columbus, Ohio, that will prove of great interest to every traveler.

It opened a "dining car school."

So successful has this experiment proved that plans are already laid for the founding of similar schools at New York and Chicago.

To these schools in small groups the stewards, chefs and waiters, both veterans and novices, will be brought, every man in the dining car service passing regularly through the courses of instruction.

Chefs of long experience in American and European clubs and restaurants, and men skillful in the niceties of service will be in charge of the instruction.

Within the commissary building a dining car is built and set up, reproducing exactly the working conditions of diners on the road—kitchen, pantry, tables, aisles. Thus the men will be instructed not alone in theory but in actual practice.

More than 2000 persons devote their lives to the dining car service of the Pennsylvania. Subject as they are to the restraint of limited working space and swift travel, they nevertheless have set a standard of intelligent work and thoughtful courtesy which ranks high in the traditions of the Railroad. 4 fast trains to

New York Evening Journal readers have money. Their collective purchasing power is enormous. They are people of substance, with a bank balance and a high standard of living. They live well, dress well, and enjoy the good things of life. They have both the means and the desire to buy.

The Power to Buy

It has been proved by innumerable tests that the readers of the New York Evening Journal can and do buy anything from grand pianos and motor-cars to the best known cigarettes and breakfast

The Favored Medium

The fact that many of the leading merchants of Greater New York spend more money in the New York Evening Journal than in any other New York newspaper is additional and conclusive proof that the readers of this great newspaper have the money and the will to spend. For 12 consecutive years the advertisers of New York have spent more money in the New York Evening Journal than in any other New York evening newspaper.

And this moneyed group of the New York Evening Journal readers is tremendously large! In the 680,681 homes served by the New York Evening Journal, there are over 2,000,000 consumersnearly half the people who buy New York evening newspapers buy the New York Evening Journal.

These more than 2,000,000 consumers—with money—can all be reached at one stroke by the New York Evening Journal. And the special Saturday edition - alone among New York dailies offers the tremendous pulling power of color advertising to progressive and aggressive merchandisers. In the first nine months of 1927 color advertising in the Saturday Home Journal showed an increase of 81%!

Four Groups of Bonds You Should Replace

THE shrewd investor who has any 1 bonds in the four groups mentioned below will sell them now and reinvest his money:

- 1 Bonds selling at or near their redemption price.
- 2 Bonds that have been called, have matured, or are about and biscuits—this way!

No doubt you've known women whose cakes and biscuits were always perfect in appearance, but disappointing in taste. Frequently their trouble is caused by flour made from the wrong type of wheat. To get that delicious, delicate, unmistakable flavor that marks your truly perfect cake or biscuit, use Pillsbury's Best Flour. It is made only from carefully selected full flavored wheat—you can depend on it for better flavor and more certain success in all your baking! Accept no other flour!

against fall chills is to safeguard their vitality in advance.

Parents must remember that disease germs lurk everywhere—in the food, in the air—and many times the child's entire system is burdened with them. Laxa-tive-Links, the pink candy, are an extremely mild laxative, just the thing to keep your child's system toned up and full of pep.

pie may be obtained, and this is only one of the ways in which a supply of handsome delicate apple jelly can be used to enhance some dessert. After the woman, in a California apple orchard locality, had made a dozen different flavored apple jellies, she wrote to some one that she would never call apple jelly "common" again. She called her collection "apple jellies de luxe."

With Northern Spies five pounds and one lemon she made a clear amber jelly. With the same weight of Newton pippins and two navel oranges she made a bright red apple jelly. With the same weight of McIntosh Reds and two pounds of strawberry guavas she made a "rich dark red apple jelly." With five pounds of Arkansas Hlacks, two cups of blood orange juice and pure orange coloring she made a tri-color apple jelly by filling the glasses first a third full of amber apple jelly. When this had set she added a third of green mint jelly, and later finished with a rose pink. She cooked the apples separately.

In squares.

This woman, to avoid cloudy jellies, strained her fruit through a sieve without the slightest pressure. The economical soul finds it hard to resist nomen soul mas it hard to resist twisting a bag or squeezing it. It does not pay. Use the pulp for a conserve which, with cranges and nuts, may outrank the popularity of the jelly, being marmalade like. After the sieve draining this jelly maker let the juice drip through a

There is a health builder long known to physicians as the most effective means of supplying the "building-up" elements which under-per people so need. Good cod-liver oil!

The value of cod-liver oil for these purposes, scientists now know, depends entirely on the amount of the health giving Vitamins A and D that it contains.

For this reason, many physicians advise only Squibb's Cod-Liver Oil. They know they can depend on Squibb's because it is guaranteed to be exceptionally rich in the building-up elements, Vitamins A and D. And, unlike other od-liver oils, it does not deteriorate

Ask your physician about Squibb's Cod-Liver Oil as a health-builder. He mows its dependability. For your pro-ection, insist on Squibb's; all reliable
